Madrid, 3 October 2023. Hafesa Oil, a division of the Hafesa Group, the holding company involved in the marketing, storage and distribution of petroleum products, is announcing the winners of the 12-month free fuel promotion.

With these prizes, Hafesa Oil wanted to recognise the loyalty of members of its top-up programme, who obtained a ticket in the draw for the 15 prizes each time they spent at least 40 euros on refuelling. The promotion was valid from 1 June to 31 August 2023. Each prize will allow the winner to refuel to a value of 100 euros a month for one year at Hafesa Oil stations.

The winners – three for each station – are being informed personally, via posters at the filling stations, and on the Group's social networks. They are:

In the words of Javier Ramos, managing director of Hafesa Oil, "We are very happy with the great participation in this promotion by our customers and we are already thinking about new promotional activities to thank them for the trust they place in us."

Hafesa Oil has five service stations offering quality services and superior forecourt service, which are the distinctive signs of its business model. The stations are close to the Group's storage plants and constitute a strategic asset, as they give the brand visibility in the geographical areas where the Group has a logistics presence.

Whether they are individuals or self-employed professionals, all the network's customers are offered the top-up card which they can request free of charge at the service stations. It allows them to enjoy a direct discount on each refuelling, which means additional fuel cost savings.
